You Took from me what I can give You gave it back with all you have Suddenly the morning sun broke through the darkness of the night For us to see that we have climbed into a brighter light we touch
the world is silent
As we comfort the thoughts of our Love ones
We will be as one in the darkness of the night.
We will not faulter
We will not go astray
In the darkness we will know
We are the light.

To Randy

Have a good one.
