TED CLAUS, also known as Clause tchu Nez, formerly of Fort Defiance and Navajo has just completed a commission for a mural at the Museum of Navajo Ceremonial Art in Santa Fe, New Mexico. The mural depicts the masked dance of the ninth night of the Yehbechal Ceremony. The mural is 5' x 8' and is in the room which contains most of the holy objects used by Hosteen Klah, well known Navajo singer, who started the Museum as a shrine of the religious beliefs of the Navajo people.
