

NEGRO HAD CRIMINAL RECORD.

Young Man Caught Masquerading in Womens' Clothes Is Arrested.

John Moore, a young negro with a long police record, was arraigned this morning in the Adams street court charged with vagrancy. He was arrested at Hudson avenue and Lafayette street at 6 o'clock last night by Patrolman James Wiley of the Adams street station, who had been told that there was a man masquerading in women's clothing on the corner. There had been a number of instances of white men having been robbed by a seeming woman, who had developed extraordinary muscular power in handling her victims. Moore made no resistance when the policeman seized him. He admitted his sex and was taken to the police station by the woman.

Chief Magistrate Keapner took his plea of not guilty to a charge of vagrancy this morning, and held him in default of bail, for a hearing on Friday morning.
