

Busty gender bender bailed

NAUGHTY sex-change girl Linda Gold caused a stir in court when she turned up in her working clothes — as a kissogram girl.

The former Soho club-hostess, who claims to be a longtime friend of Boy George, was arrested for parading in front of Oxford Street shoppers in the sexy black lingerie.

And she raised a few eyebrows as she stepped into the Marlborough Street dock still clad in the see-through bra, black knickers and fishnet stockings with suspender belt.

The unfastened grey fur coat she wore did little to prevent the buxom blonde from showing off her shapely 38-28-38 figure.

Miss Gold, of Sandmere Road, Clapham, was charged with using "insulting behaviour whereby a breach of the peace may have been occasioned".

Asked if she was guilty or not, Miss Gold, her hair in pony-tails and wearing make-up, replied: "I don't know. I was out shopping in my usual dress and they arrested me."

Solicitor Mr Mark Haslam said she would be pleading not guilty.

Miss Gold, who had her sex-change operation last November, was bailed until next month.
