Two current (2014) members have been involved with the committee since its inception in 2006. Furthermore, the organization of the FPAs has been spearheaded by Good for Her's managers. The store has had four since its opening in 1997 – Gallant was the first manager who started the event, then Alison Lee took the event to the next level through corporate sponsorship. The third manager was presumably Carla Henderson (?) and the fourth manager started in May 2013

Sponsorship / Commercial Affiliations: (shift in funding/professionalization)

- Role of Good for Her:

From the beginning, as exemplified above, the Feminist Porn Awards was started by the first manager with the support of the shop (aka Carlyle Jansen, the owner). This has been maintained as the main organizing body since, while also being branded the “Good for Her Feminist Porn Awards” in 2008. The store has been at the crux of the event also for the jury, being the location where all submissions are sent. Carlyle views herself as a main member of the FPA Committee. The shop also sponsors affiliated events and fundraisers, including housing workshops. Presumably in light of the shop’s connections with important industry brands and figures, the sponsorship was more easily developed and continually nurtured.
- Professionalization:
  - 2008: explicit discussion of having travel subsidies and accommodations available on a first-come first-serve basis for those many filmmakers, performers, and attendees travelling to Toronto for the events
  - 2008: first sponsorship package developed to procure sponsors for the 2009 FPAs
  - 2009: organize first fundraising event for the 5th Annual FPAs (2010), entitled ArtCore, which includes screenings, performances, installations, raffles, and more, and was hosted at Bread and Circus, Toronto; addressing relationship between art and porn
  - 2011: organize another fundraising event for the 6th Annual FPAs (2011) called “Delicious: A Celebration of People of Colour in Erotic Film”, featuring screenings and performances, hosted by Coco La Crème at Bread and Circus, Toronto
  - 2011: have an “Official Rules” document now (as represented in the archive atleast) for submissions, including licensing issues and related
  - 2011, 2012: “Platinum sponsorship packages sold prior to advertising sponsorship packages ($6000)
  - 2012: organize another fundraising event for the 7th Annual FPAs (2012) called “Luscious: Celebrating Trans & Genderqueer Pornography” hosted by Emmet Outlaw at The Gladstone, featuring screenings/performances, plus chance to win a date with Buck Angel to the awards ceremony

- 2013: Carlyle Jansen along with Tristan Taormino, Jiz Lee and other performers/directors participated in the Q&A talk entitled “Fifty Shades of Porn” about their passion for feminist porn, the significance, and their involvement therein and these two events
- Commercial Affiliations:
  - 2009, 2010: proceeds of the raffle and silent auction are donated to the Sexual Health, Education, and Pleasure Project, which is aimed at giving youth and marginalized communities access to pleasure-based, rather than to abstinence-based sex education
  - 2010: Good for Her partners with Good Releasing for the first “Emerging Filmmaker Award”, which consists of a $750 cash award to help emerging filmmakers of porn that challenges mainstream conventions complete their film or to explore distribution options
  - 2011: for launch party, the FPAs ‘take-over’ the Gladstone weekly queer event called ‘Granny Boots’
  - 2012: “Sexing the Transman with Buck Angel” event was a Good for Her event co-sponsored by Sexual Diversity Studies and Cinema Studies at the University of Toronto
  - 2012: “Switch: Queer Porn Play Party, Feminist Porn Awards Edition” event was in affiliation with the FPAs and sponsored by Aslan Leather
  - 2013: Feminist Porn Awards sponsored the Feminist Porn Conference along with the Mark S. Bonham Centre for Sexual Diversity Studies, Good for Her, and The Feminist Press

Advertising: (logos/posters/handbills, change over time)

As demonstrated by the physical and digital materials, there were handbills and posters created for each year of the FPAs. Each year, a new design was created to advertise the events. The performers’ photos used were often submitted by the performers themselves upon request, as per Carlyle. As of 2009, the ‘butt plug logo’ was created and used, as well as a similar aesthetic to the type/design of the advertisements. This aligns with the professionalization of the event upon Alison Lee’s involvement, starting in 2008, in which sponsors were procured and, presumably, the more thorough and regulated use of Photoshop. Similar designs and typeface are clearly present in later years for handbills, posters, and other affiliated promotional documents. All of these advertisement documents, as well as the program booklets and the like, begin to reflect the various sponsorship package guarantees, allowing one to see what major companies were supporting the event and to what extent.

Press / News Articles:

In its first year in 2006, the event received National Post coverage, triggering and demonstrating its immediate recognition as an innovative and important event. Received further National Post coverage in 2007.

Awards / Selection Process: (trophy production, award judging sheets)

- Trophies: From the beginning, the trophies were glass butt plugs. Each year, the committee would select a new butt plug design based on availability and send those to a trophy-making factory in Toronto where they'd be attached to a base with an engraved plaque. As well, for the first three years of the awards (2006-2008), the trophy was called "the Emma", in honour of the pioneering sex positive feminist Emma Goldman.
- Jury Members: In 2009, the members received a $150 gift certificate; Alison Lee was a senior member on the jury; Coco La Crème is a senior member

Role of Photography / Audiovisual Documentation: (quantity, subjects, changes over time; aesthetic)

This collection reflects an extensive quantity (969 photos / 21 audiovisual) of visual documentation, mainly of the awards ceremonies. There are photos from this main event from 2006 to 2013, as well as several from the film screening night. Carlyle mentioned that, as the FPAs became more professionalized, so did the photography with the hiring of a professional photographer for the awards ceremony. The photos, thus, show the red carpet, audience, performers/speakers, award presenters and award winners. The photos give the impression of a colourful, lively event with excitement and celebration, as well as demonstrating the extensive support of attendance and the presence of major figures within the industry.

- As per Carlyle: Bathhouse - landmark supreme court case in 2004/5 with a Montreal Swinger Club - ruled that laws change around community standards; now police weren't able to target them as much, but this is why publicity was extremely limited and still is a bit; mainly advertised in Xtra; featured on a program called "Sex files" on CityTV, Carlyle recalls.
- Photos of protestors (2013.002.003.064,065)

Relationship to Sexual and Gender Diversity:

- Ableism: Never fully wheelchair accessible, and often not at all – some advertisements say to go to acsexxxible.ca to find accessible events.
- Name changes and stipulation on attendance/behaviour demonstrate changing values of sex-positive and feminist values from 1998 through to 2013...
