Dear Lou,
Thank you for your letter of September 12.
I was away on vacation and your letter was waiting on my return.
There is no way of telling if you are a transsexual unless you are tested and evaluated by a psychiatrist / psychologist. However, the desire to wear men's clothing does not denote a strong point in diagnosis. Transsexual females feel they were meant to be males and act accordingly.
I suggest, since you are so close to Palo Alto, that you contact the gender identity clinic at Stanford University: Donald R. Lamb MD, Chief - Department of Plastic Surgery - Stanford U. Medical Center, Palo Alto, California. They will be able to tell you if you are ~~are~~ are not a transsexual.
Good luck.

Sincerely,
Angelo Tornabene Ph.D.

Dear Angelo - One year ago almost to the day I wrote to you for guidance. Today I've been on male hormones 11 mos. & had my chest surgery 2 mos. ago. Am working full-time as a man & my employers know nothing of my past gender. I feel so good I can't even believe it. I've been doing work for the Janus Info Fund & Dr. P.W. I see a definite need for a specific booklet addressed to the F → M. (I remember getting the Euclidean Ed F pamphlets, having to plow thru volumes of info for the M → F to get to a few sentences of relevance to the F → M) I am writing to inquire whether you would consent to my listing the Labyrinth F in this booklet as a referral svc for the F → M. (I am not certain whether you are still an active svc.) Also if you'd like to be included please give a brief descrip of the svcs your Found offers. The booklet will be sent to F → M only who write to the Janus I. F. In addition I am personally interested in any updates you may have re: genital surgery. Awaiting your response. Thank you.
