

SOUTH OF FRANCE SENSATION

Jonathan King, in Cannes to promote his new record "Cherry Cherry" visited the Charleston Club which has become the "in" place of the entire French Riviera, attracting crowds from Monte Carlo, Nice, Juan, etc., nightly, to see international star impersonator Les-Lee who entertains nightly. Les-Lee acts as host, entertainer, and presents an hour-long show of comedy, singing, etc., and registers strongly, particularly with his "What Kind Of Fool Am I". British pianist-entertainer George Logan accompanies Les-Lee as well as doing his own spot, his "Bird Of Paradise" a terrific hit.

During August Lee Stevens appeared as guest, and looking as glamorous as ever in his feather dresses, received a terrific ovation from the cosmopolitan crowds with his "Goody Goody" (which became a catch phrase) and "Hava Nagila", later joined Les-Lee and George Logan for a strong finale number. The show has been rebooked for next year and the trio are looking forward to reproducing the show in October in England.

L.R. George Logan, Les-Lee, Jonathan King, Lee Stevens