Ella Wesner.

Ella Wesner was a star of both hemispheres who gained, for herself the justly earned title of the "Beau Ideal of all Male Impersonators." The picture gives you Miss Wesner in her makeup for her great cigarette song. In this song, while singing the chorus she would throw boxes of cigarettes to all parts of the house. Miss Wesner had quite a rival as a male impersonator in Annie Hindle. But no matter how hard the latter tried or how heavy she billed herself it never caused the slightest jar to the success of the great Wesner.
